

CYBERBIT Names Cyber Security Veteran Stephen Thomas - CYBERBIT Commercial's VP Sales, North America

Thomas Brings over 20 Years of Sales to the Position

CYBERBIT Ltd., a subsidiary of Elbit Systems Ltd., announced today that Stephen Thomas, formerly Vice President, Americas Channel Sales at Symantec, has joined CYBERBIT Commercial Solutions Inc. (CYBERBIT Commercial) as Vice President of Sales for North America. In this role, Mr. Thomas will be responsible for all direct sales and partner functions for North America for the enterprise cyber market. He has also been entrusted to grow strategic customer accounts and partner relationships that tactically meld with CYBERBIT Commercial's core business objectives.

Thomas brings more than twenty years of successful sales leadership and operational management, including executive sales and business development roles at both startups and large enterprise organizations. In his most recent position at Symantec, Thomas was responsible for Enterprise Security Channel Sales in the Americas and over $650M in revenue and was recognized by CRN as one of the Top-50 Most Influential Channel Chiefs in 2016.

CYBERBIT Commercial's sales office is based in Austin, Texas. The office focuses on driving the distribution of the CYBERSHIELD advanced security product portfolio for high value, mission-critical enterprises and critical infrastructure in North America.

"The North American market is an important part of our cyber security business, and I am excited to have Stephen Thomas join our team. Stephen is a proven leader who brings exactly the right skills to help us execute on our North American growth strategy" commented Adi Dar, CYBERBIT's CEO. "CYBERBIT is well positioned to rapidly grow its North American commercial cyber security business with its CYBERSHIELD portfolio", added Dar.
