Cyberbit Website Privacy Policy

About this privacy policy

This website www.cyberbit.com, including its related sub-domains (the "Website"), is operated by Cyberbit Ltd., as data controller ("Cyberbit", "our", "we" or "us").

Cyberbit Ltd. is the holding company of the following Cyberbit group of companies: Cyberbit GmbH; Cyberbit, Inc.; Cyberbit India Private Limited

The following U.S. entities within the Cyberbit Group also adhere to the EU-U.S. DPF Principles, UK Extension to the EU-U.S. DPF, and Swiss-U.S. DPF Principles and are covered by Cyberbit Ltd.'s DPF certification: Cyberbit, Inc.

In this privacy policy when we refer to "Cyberbit", "our", "we" or "us", we mean and any of those group companies or Cyberbit Ltd and they are collectively referred to as the "Cyberbit Group". Cyberbit presents this privacy policy, as may be amended from time to time, (the "Privacy Policy") that applies to any Website visitor (referred to as "User"), and our customers, prospective customers and suppliers (including the personnel that work for them in each case) (collectively referred to as "you" or "your" in this Privacy Policy).

We hereby inform you, and you hereby acknowledge that you have no legal obligation to provide us with any personal information when you use the Website and perform any other activities described in this Privacy Policy, and the provision of it is solely based on your free will. However, without receipt of personal information it may not be possible to operate the Website and provide you with its related services and any other services or business activities described in this Privacy Policy.

The Website presents Cyberbit’s activities, products, platforms and services. Please note that a separate privacy policy applies to our Services and is provided to individuals using our Services prior to processing their data.

For any questions or requests under this Privacy Policy, please send us an email at privacy@cyberbit.com or contact us at one of the phone numbers listed on our Contact Us Page.

This Privacy Policy supplements our Website Cookie Policy available on Legal@cyberbit.com.

Cyberbit complies with the EU-U.S. Data Privacy Framework (EU-U.S. DPF) and the UK Extension to the EU-U.S. DPF, and the Swiss-U.S. Data Privacy Framework (Swiss-U.S. DPF) as set forth by the U.S. Department of Commerce. Cyberbit has certified to the U.S. Department of Commerce that it adheres to the EU-U.S. Data Privacy Framework Principles (EU-U.S. DPF Principles) with regard to the processing of personal data received from the European Union and the United Kingdom in reliance on the EU-U.S. DPF and the UK Extension to the EU-U.S. DPF. Cyberbit has certified to the U.S. Department of Commerce that it adheres to the Swiss-U.S. Data Privacy Framework Principles (Swiss-U.S. DPF Principles) with regard to the processing of personal data received from Switzerland in reliance on the Swiss-U.S. DPF. If there is any conflict between the terms in this privacy policy and the EU-U.S. DPF Principles and/or the Swiss-U.S. DPF Principles, the Principles shall govern. To learn more about the Data Privacy Framework (DPF) Program, and to view our certification, please visit https://www.dataprivacyframework.gov/

Cyberbit is subject to the investigatory and enforcement powers of the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) with respect to compliance with the DPF Principles.

Please read this Privacy Policy carefully to understand how we process your personal information. By accessing or browsing the Website, working with or for us, offering your goods or services to us, using any of the services that we provide to you or otherwise sharing your personal information with us, you confirm that you have read and understood the terms of this Privacy Policy.

This Privacy Policy is divided into the following sections: Section 1 What personal information do we collect about you and for which purposes? Section 2 With whom do we share your personal information? Section 3

How is your personal information transferred outside of the EEA and Israel? Section 4 How long do we keep your personal information for? Section 5 How do we keep your personal information secure? Section 6 What rights do you have regarding your personal information? Section 7 Does this Privacy Policy apply to third party links? Section 8 Social media widgets Section 9 How do we approach changes to this Privacy Policy? Section 10 Do we respond to Do Not Track? Section 11 Contact us and data controller's details

1. What personal information do we collect about you and for which purposes?

In this Privacy Policy, "personal information" means (i) information that identifies, relates to, describes, is capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, with a particular consumer or household; (ii) any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person; an identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly. As you use the Website and otherwise share your personal information, we collect personal information directly from you, from third-party sources, such as public websites, or our suppliers, and automatically as you use the Website.

1.1 Personal information that you give to us

When you engage with certain features of our Website or any other services, we will collect personal information from you. The personal information you provide is needed in order to fulfil the purposes detailed below. If you do not provide us with the requested personal information, we would not be able to do so.

Specifically, we collect personal information directly from you when you:

(a) Contact us. When you send us a question or inquiry by filling in our 'Contact Us' form, you need to provide us with your first name, last name, email address, telephone number, company, country, and any content you decide to add in your message. In addition, we ask your area of interest and how you heard about us. We use this personal information to fulfil your request for additional information or support from us. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on our legitimate interests in managing the contact requests sent to us. We may also use this personal information to send you communications on Cyberbit products or offers we feel may be of interest to you. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on our legitimate interests in updating customers on new offers related to our products and services. You can unsubscribe from these communications by contacting us at Privacy@Cyberbit.com or you can unsubscribe by clicking the link in the emails we send you.

(b) Request a Demo. When you request a demo of our products and services by filling in the 'Request a Demo' or 'Schedule a Demo' forms, you need to provide us with your first name, last name, company, title, business email address, phone number, country. In addition, we ask how you heard about us. We use this personal information to fulfil your request and schedule a demo of our products and services with our staff. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes to take steps at the request of the users prior to entering into a potential contract. We also use this personal information to send you communications on Cyberbit products or offers we feel may be of interest to you. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on our legitimate interests in updating our potential customers on new offers related to our products and services. You can unsubscribe from these communications by contacting us at Privacy@Cyberbit.com or you can unsubscribe by clicking the link in the emails we send you.

(c) Subscribe to our blog. When you subscribe to our blog, we will need to provide us with your email work address. We use this personal information to send you blog updates, newsletters, and relevant content that may be of interest to you based on your subscription preferences, and to notify you of new products, services, and company updates we feel may be of interest to you.

(d) Apply for employment. To learn more about how we handle your personal information when you apply for a job, please read our Candidate Privacy Policy available on our Website.

(e) Download our resources. If you download or watch any of our videos and webinars, we will collect your first name, last name, company, title, country and email address. We use this personal information to provide you with access to the requested resources, tailor future recommendations based on your interests and professional profile and communicate with you regarding updates or additional information related to the resources you have accessed. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on your consent you provide when subscribing to our email notifications. You can unsubscribe from these communications by contacting us at Privacy@Cyberbit.com, or you can unsubscribe by clicking the link in the emails we send you. We may also use this personal information to send you communications on Cyberbit products or offers we feel may be of interest to you. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on our legitimate interests in updating our potential customers on new offers related to our products and services. You can unsubscribe from these communications by contacting us Privacy@Cyberbit.com or you can unsubscribe by clicking the link in the emails we send you.

(f) Register to be updated on podcasts. When you register to be updated on new podcast, you need to provide us with your first name, last name, email address and institution. We use this personal information to send you updates on podcasts on matters related to our products and services. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on our legitimate interests in updating our customers and potential customers on new podcasts and webinars related to our products and services. You can unsubscribe from these communications by contacting us at Privacy@Cyberbit.com, or you can unsubscribe by clicking the link in the emails we send you.

(g) Attend a Cyberbit exhibition. If you attend an exhibition, we will collect your name, contact information and areas of interest for marketing purposes.

(h) Attend a meeting with Cyberbit. If you attend a meeting with Cyberbit, we will collect your name and contact information for marketing purposes.

(i) Register and access to our partner portal. If you register to our partner portal at the 'Partner' tab on the Website, you need to provide us with your first name, last name, company name, title, work email, phone number, partner type, number of sales people and country. To log in the portal, you need to provide us with username and password. In case of Deal Registration (which includes the name of the potential customer, the name of its contract person and e-mail) and names of potential leads for demo purposes. We use this personal information for marketing purposes, i.e., to send partners communications on Cyberbit products or offers we feel may be of interest to you. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on our legitimate interests in updating our partners on new offers related to our products and services. You can unsubscribe from these communications by contacting us at Privacy@Cyberbit.com, or you can unsubscribe by clicking the link in the emails we send you. We use this personal information for compensation to the partners. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on the necessity for performance of the contract between Cyberbit and its partners, as established in the applicable partner agreement.

The provision of certain types of personal information may be necessary or optional, depending on your requests. Mandatory information will be marked as such at the moment of collection of your personal information. If you refuse to provide mandatory information, Cyberbit may not be able to process your request as described above (e.g., reply to your contact request, demo request, process your job application, send you service-related communications).

We may also use all the personal information described above from (a) to (i) to establish, exercise or defend Cyberbit's legal rights. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on our legitimate interest in defending our rights and interests.

We may also use all the personal information described above from (a) to (i) to comply with legal and regulatory obligations. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on legal and regulatory obligations to which Cyberbit is subject.

1.2 Personal information we collect from third-party sources

We may receive from third-parties, such a lead generation vendors, personal information of contact persons within organizations that may be potential customers (name, position within the organization and contact details). We also use third-party website visitor identification services, which return to us identity or company information corresponding to a Website visit, generated by matching cookies, IP address, and device information collected during that visit against third-party identity and business databases, including for visitors who have not otherwise identified themselves to us (e.g., by submitting a Website form).

1.3 We will collect such personal information for marketing purposes, including identifying and contacting potential customers who may benefit from our cybersecurity solutions, tailoring our outreach communications based on your organization's industry and needs, inviting you to relevant webinars or events, and sharing educational content about cybersecurity challenges and solutions relevant to your business. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on our legitimate interests in promoting our business services to potential customers who may reasonably be expected to have an interest in enterprise cybersecurity solutions. You have the right to object to this processing at any time by contacting us or using the opt-out mechanisms provided in our communications or by contacting us at Privacy@Cyberbit.com.

Personal information that we collect automatically from you:

Each time you visit the Website we will automatically collect the following internet or other electronic network activity information:

(a) Technical information, including the Internet protocol (IP) address used to connect your computer to the internet, domain name and country which requests information, the files requested, browser type and version, browser plug-in types and versions, operating system and platform, and information about the device used to access the Website, including, operating system, hardware model, and your preferences;

(b) Information about your visit and usage, including the full Uniform Resource Locators (URL) clickstream to, through and from our Website (including date and time), time and length of visits to certain pages, page interaction information (such as scrolling, clicks, and mouse-overs), methods used to browse away from the page, traffic data, location data, weblogs and other communication data and information provided when requesting further service or downloads; and

(c) Location information, which may be determined through your IP address.

To collect this information, we use cookies and other tracking technologies. For additional information regarding the cookies we use on our website please see our Cookie Policy at https://pages.cyberbit.com/legal.

We use HubSpot as our customer relationship management (CRM) platform to manage our sales, marketing, and customer service activities. HubSpot may collect information through tracking code on our Website, including IP addresses and other online identifiers, to provide CRM services and improve platform functionality. We have disabled HubSpot's Intent Sharing and Smart Enrichment features to limit data sharing across HubSpot's network. HubSpot's use of information is governed by their Privacy Policy, available at https://legal.hubspot.com/privacy-policy.

We use this personal information, together with information received from third-party visitor identification services, to identify the individual visiting our Website or the company they represent, and to conduct sales and marketing outreach to that individual or company, even where you have not submitted a Website form. We process personal information for these purposes based on your consent, given via our cookie preference center.

We use this personal information to allow you to access and use the Website. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on the performance of the contract between Cyberbit and the User, i.e., Terms of use.

We use this personal information to improve the Website and your User’s experience. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on our legitimate interests to improve and secure our Website and User’s experience.

We use this personal information to recognise you when you return to our Website and provide you with customised content. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on your consent.

We use this personal information to ensure that the Website is functioning correctly and to monitor, investigate any bug with. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on our legitimate interests to secure the Website.

We use this personal information to carry out advertising campaigns. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on you consent.

We may also use this personal information to comply with any procedures, laws and regulations which apply to us. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on legal and regulatory obligations to which Cyberbit is subject.

We may also use this personal information to establish, exercise or defend our legal rights. EU legal basis - We process personal information for these purposes based on our legitimate interest in defending our rights and interests.

2. With whom do we share your personal information?

2.1 We share your personal information as described below:

(a) With our trusted service providers and sub-contractors including technical, IT, hosting, logistical or administrative services providers, our communication vendors, payment processors and insurers.

(b) To the extent required or authorised by law, if we think it is necessary to comply with the law or if we need to do so to protect or defend our legal rights, or the rights of others (including to investigate and protect our users from fraudulent or unlawful use of the Website), we will share your personal information with third parties requiring information for legal reasons or third party investigators, authorities, regulators or law enforcement bodies.

(c) Your personal information will be shared with any member of the Cyberbit Group where we consider that it is in our legitimate interests to do so for internal administrative purposes (for example, ensuring consistent and coherent delivery of services to our customers, corporate strategy, compliance, auditing and monitoring, research and development and quality assurance).

(d) Companies that assist us in our marketing, advertising and promotional activities; and

(e) Analytics and search engine providers that assist us in the improvement and optimisation of our Website and process personal information in the context of provision of analytical services to us.

We will also disclose your personal information to third parties:

(f) where it is in our legitimate interests to do so to run, grow and develop our business: (i) if we sell or buy any business or assets, we will disclose your personal information to the prospective seller or buyer of such business or assets; (ii) if Cyberbit or substantially all of its assets are acquired by a third party, in which case personal information held by Cyberbit will be one of the transferred assets;

(g) to establish, protect, or exercise our legal rights, as required to enforce our terms of service or other contracts; to defend against legal claims or demands; to detect, investigate, prevent, or take action against illegal activities, fraud, or situations involving potential threats to the rights;

(h) to protect the rights, property or safety of the Cyberbit Group, our employees, customers, suppliers or other persons; and

(i) if we are under a duty to disclose or share your personal information in order to comply with any legal obligation, any lawful request from government or law enforcement officials and as may be required to meet national security or law enforcement requirements or prevent illegal activity.

2.2 In the preceding twelve (12) months, we have disclosed the following categories of personal information for a business purpose: (i) we have disclosed your personal information to third parties that help us administer the Website, including technical, IT, hosting, logistical or administrative services providers, our communication vendors, payment processors and insurers; (ii) we have disclosed your personal identifiers and internet or other electronic network activity information to our IT support and data analytics providers to detect security incidents, protect against malicious, deceptive, fraudulent, or illegal activity, and to identify and repair Website errors; and (iii) we have disclosed your internet or other electronic network activity information to our IT support and data analytics providers to maintain the quality of the Website and to improve and enhance the Website.

2.3 In the preceding twelve (12) months, we have shared your internet or other electronic network activity information collected via cookies and other tracking technologies with data analytics providers and advertising partners. Such sharing may be deemed a sale under the California Consumer Privacy Act. To opt-out of this sharing, see the instructions in visit our cookie management platform.

2.4 DPF Onward Transfer Liability - Cyberbit remains liable under the DPF Principles if our agents process personal data received under the DPF in a manner inconsistent with the Principles, unless we prove that we are not responsible for the event giving rise to the damage.

3. How is your personal information transferred outside of the European Economic Area ("EEA") and Israel?

3.1 The personal information will be used, stored and/or accessed by staff operating outside the EEA working for us, other members of the Cyberbit Group or third-party suppliers. These non-EEA countries include countries deemed "adequate" by the European Commission, such as Israel. This will be for the purposes listed in section 1 above, the processing of transactions and/or the provision of support services. Further details about who we share personal information with are set out in section 2 above.

3.2 When transferring personal information outside the EEA, we will usually: (a) in accordance with Article 45 of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), ensure that the country in which your personal information will be handled has been deemed "adequate" by the European Commission; or (b) in the absence of an adequacy decision, in accordance with Article 46.2 of GDPR, include the standard contractual clauses approved by the European Commission for transferring personal information outside the EEA into our contracts with those third parties.

3.3 When transferring personal information outside Israel, the transfer takes place: (a) on the basis of a country declared as offering equivalent level of protection by the Israeli Privacy Protection Authority; or (b) any another approved transfer mechanism under the Israeli regulations, including your consent through this Privacy Policy to transfer your personal information to other jurisdictions, understanding that in some countries the level of protection may be lower than in Israel.

3.4 In any case, our transfer, storage and handling of your personal information will continue to be governed by this Privacy Policy.

3.5 Further details on the steps we take to protect your personal information, in these cases, is available from us on request by contacting us by email at privacy@cyberbit.com at any time.

4. How long do we keep your personal information for?

4.1 We retain personal information for as long as we deem it as reasonably necessary in order to provide you with the Website and any other services described in this Privacy Policy.

4.2 We retain your personal information in accordance with our Data Retention and Records Management Policy (which can be provided upon contacting privacy@cyberbit.com), the length of time we retain your personal information depends on the purposes for which we collect and use it. Other circumstances in which we will retain your personal information for longer periods of time include: (i) as required to comply with applicable laws; (ii) to establish, exercise or defend our legal rights; or (iii) for us to have an accurate record of your interaction with us in the event of any inquiries or contact requests.

5. How do we keep your personal information secure?

5.1 We use appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect personal information against accidental or unlawful destruction or accidental loss, alteration unauthorised disclosure, harm to the integrity, or access. All information that is collected through the Website is processed on secure data servers located in the EU and the USA.

5.2 In the course of provision of your personal information to us, your personal information is likely to be transferred over the internet and/or stored on a cloud-based server. Although we make every effort to protect the personal information which you provide to us, the transmission of information over the Internet and storage in a cloud-based server is not completely secure. As such, you acknowledge and accept that we cannot guarantee the security of your personal information transmitted to our Website and that any such transmission is at your own risk.

6. What choices and rights do you have regarding your personal information?

6.1 If you wish to exercise your rights in relation to personal information under applicable law, you may contact us at Privacy@Cyberbit.com.

6.2 When you ask us to exercise any of your rights under this Privacy Policy and the applicable privacy and data protection laws, we may need to ask you to provide us with certain credentials to make sure that you are who you claim you are, to avoid disclosure to you of personal information which is related to others that you are not authorized to receive, and to ask you questions to understand better the nature and scope of personal information that you request.

6.3 Email Tracking. You can disable the email tracking by disabling the display of images by default. You can revoke your consent and opt-out of such email communications at any time by clicking the "unsubscribe" link at the bottom of each email.

6.4 Marketing Communications. You can opt-out of receiving marketing communications from us by clicking the "unsubscribe" link provided in each communication.

6.5 Rights of individuals in the EEA:

If our processing of your personal information is subject to the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), you are entitled to the following rights:

(a) access your personal information in order to confirm whether or not personal information about you is being processed; provide you with further details about how we process your personal information and provide you with a copy of any personal information which we hold about you;

(b) rectify any of your personal information in case your personal information is obsolete, inaccurate or incomplete;

(c) in certain circumstances under GDPR, delete any personal information which we hold about you;

(d) in certain circumstances under GDPR, restrict the way that we process your personal information during a limited period of time;

(e) in certain circumstances under GDPR, data portability, meaning that you can receive the personal information originally provided by you in a structured and commonly used format or that you can request the transfer of the personal information provided by you to another data controller;

(f) object which you have to our use of your personal information when the processing is based on Cyberbit's legitimate interest. Cyberbit will no longer process your personal information unless Cyberbit demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms, such as the respect of a legal obligation (e.g. legal obligation involving the retention of documents), or for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims;

(g) withdraw your consent when it has been obtained and processing is based on consent;

(h) if applicable, you may request not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, if such profiling produces a legal effect concerning you or similarly significantly affects you and if automated processing is used.

We will consider all such requests and provide our response within a reasonable period (and in any event within any time period required by applicable law). Please note that those rights do not always apply and there are certain exceptions to them. We will also need to confirm your identity before acting on certain requests.

If you have a complaint about how we use your personal information, we would always prefer you to contact us first. However, you may also make a complaint to your local data protection authority in the EU country where we are based or where we monitor your behaviour. If you are unsure which data protection authority to contact, please contact us at privacy@cyberbit.com .

6.6 DPF Complaints and Recourse. In compliance with the EU-U.S. DPF and the UK Extension to the EU-U.S. DPF and the Swiss-U.S. DPF, Cyberbit commits to cooperate and comply respectively with the advice of the panel established by the EU data protection authorities (DPAs) and the UK Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) and the Swiss Federal Data Protection and Information Commissioner (FDPIC) with regard to unresolved complaints concerning our handling of personal data received in reliance on the EU-U.S. DPF and the UK Extension to the EU-U.S. DPF and the Swiss-U.S. DPF.

6.7 Under certain conditions, individuals may invoke binding arbitration for complaints regarding DPF compliance not resolved by other recourse mechanisms. This arbitration option is available by delivering notice to Cyberbit and following the procedures and subject to conditions set forth in Annex I of the DPF Principles.

6.8 Rights of California Residents: If our processing of your personal information is subject to the California Consumer Privacy Act, as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act of 2020 (CCPA) you are entitled to the following rights:

(a) Right to Access. You have the right to request what personal information we have collected, used, disclosed, and sold about you within the preceding twelve (12) months and to request a copy of the specific pieces of personal information that we maintain about you.

(b) Right to Deletion. You have the right to request the deletion of your personal information that we collect or maintain, subject to certain exceptions.

(c) Right to Opt-Out. You have the right to opt-out of the "sale" or "sharing" of your personal information to third parties. Cyberbit Group does not have actual knowledge that it sells personal information of minors under the age of sixteen (16) years.

(d) Right to Non-Discrimination. You have the right to not receive discriminatory treatment if and when you exercise your rights to access, delete, or opt-out under the CCPA.

(e) Right to Correct. You have the right to request the correction of your inaccurate personal information.

(f) Right to Information About Disclosures of Personal Data for Direct Marketing Purposes. Under applicable law, California consumers can request information from us about whether we have disclosed personal information to any third parties for the third parties' direct marketing purposes. We will not sell your personal information with, or disclose it to, third-party companies for their direct marketing purposes without your consent.

(g) Right to Limit the Use or Disclosure of Sensitive Personal Information. Under certain circumstances, to the extent we use or disclose SPI, you have the right to limit the use or disclosure of SPI.

To exercise your right to access or delete your personal information, you may submit a request by Privacy@Cyberbit.com. You may only make a request for access twice within a 12-month period. To opt-out of the sale of your information via cookies, please follow the instructions in visit our cookie management platform.

For requests submitted via telephone or email, you must provide us with sufficient information that allows us to reasonably verify you are the person about whom we collected the personal information and describe your request with sufficient detail to allow us to properly evaluate and respond to it. If we are not able to verify your identity for access and deletion requests with the information provided, we may ask you for additional pieces of information.

Only you, or a person registered with the California Secretary of State that you authorize to act on your behalf, may make a request related to your personal information. If you are an authorized agent making a request on behalf of another individual, you must provide us with signed documentation that you are authorized to act on behalf of that individual.

Rights of Israeli Residents: If you are based in Israel, you are entitled to request us to: (a) review and access your personal information that we process; (b) update, amend, and delete personal information which is incomplete, incorrect, outdated or unclear. To exercise your rights, please contact us at privacy@cyberbit.com

7. Does this privacy policy apply to third party links?

You may, during your use of the Website, access links to or other websites and platforms operated by third parties outside of the Cyberbit Group. Please note that this Privacy Policy only applies to the personal information that we (or third parties on our behalf or any other member of the Cyberbit Group) collect from or about you and we cannot be responsible for personal information collected and stored or otherwise processed by third parties. Third party websites and platforms have their own terms and conditions and privacy policies, and you should read these carefully before you submit any personal information to these websites. We do not endorse or otherwise accept any responsibility or liability for the content of such third-party websites and platforms or third-party terms and conditions or policies.

8. Social media widgets

Our Website includes social media feature, i.e., LinkedIn™, Facebook™, X™ and YouTube™ buttons. These features collect your IP address and which page you are visiting on our Website. They will also set a cookie to enable the feature to function properly. Social media features are hosted by third-parties. Your interactions with these features are governed by the privacy policy of the company, social media platform or third-party service, providing it.

9. How do we approach changes to this privacy policy?

We will change this Privacy Policy from time to time. Any changes we make to our Privacy Policy in the future will be posted on this page and, if we have your e-mail address, we may also, notify you by email. If we make changes that materially affect your privacy rights, we will notify you by email or posting on our Website.

10. Do we respond to Do Not Track?

We do not support Do Not Track (DNT). Do Not Track is a preference you can set in your web browser to inform websites that you do not want to be tracked. You can enable or disable Do Not Track by visiting the Preferences or Settings page of your web browser.

11. Contact us

If you have any comments or questions regarding this Privacy Policy or the information practices of the Website, please contact us at Privacy@Cyberbit.com.

12. Data controller's details

Cyberbit Ltd. 22 Zarchin St., Raanana, Israel. Email: Legal@Cyberbit.com

The practices described in this Privacy Policy statement are current personal information protection policies, as of [DATE TO BE CONFIRMED UPON PUBLICATION]. Last updated as of [DATE TO BE CONFIRMED UPON PUBLICATION]